FIRST AIR VOYAGE OVER THE ATLANTIC

Made By Daring American Defying Death For Fame.

Washington, May 27.—The American navy added new laurels to its achievements and traditions to-day when Lieut. Com. Albert Cushing Read, and his five companions, in the naval seaplane NC-4 went from the Azores to Portugal and completed the first trans-Atlantic air flight ever made in the history of the world.

However often the high seas of the Atlantic may again be crossed, either in relay or straightway jumps, the credit of being the first to pilot a heavier than an air craft through the skies from the new to the old world is one that can never be wrested from Com. Read and his crew.

The distance from Ponta Delgada, the starting point in the Azores to Lisbon, the stopping point on the continent, is 800 nautical miles and this was covered by the NC-4 to-day in nine hours and forty-four minutes.

The seaplane traveled like an express train, passing each of the fourteen station ships in regular order, as if traveling on schedule time and covered the 800 miles at an average speed of 82.14 miles an hour.

This was the best average time made anywhere on the route from Rockaway Point to Portugal, except on the short hop of 150 miles from Horta to Ponta Delgada. In the Azores, which was covered last week in one hour and forty minutes or at an average speed of 85.68 miles an hour.

By maintaining an average of 82.14 miles an hour for the straightaway run of 800 miles to Portugal to-day the NC-4 did almost as well in the matter of speed as on the short hop from Horta to Ponta.

Since leaving Rockaway the NC-4 has covered 3,150 miles in straightaway flying.

This total of 3,150 miles has been covered in 2,613 minutes in actual flying time, or in forty-three hours and thirty-three minutes of actual flying, broken up into five legs of flying. This actual flying time of 2,613 minutes for 3,150 air line miles, represents an average speed of seventy-two miles an hour for the whole journey.

Naval experts and aviators here are more than jubilant over the performance and regard the record that has been made by the NC-4 as remarkable. They feel also that the success of the fliers so far has been a full justification of the careful plans that were made by the navy more than two months ago for the flight.

Record Made By NC-4.

The record made by the NC-4 from Rockaway to Lisbon is considered very remarkable for a pioneer voyage of this sort. Here is the record.

Rockaway to Halifax, distance 540 miles; actual flying time, 7 hours 47 minutes, or 467 minutes; average speed 69 miles an hour.

Halifax to Trepassey Bay, distance 460 miles; actual flying time, 8 hours and 59 minutes, or 539 minutes; average speed 51 miles an hour.

Trepassey Bay to Horta, distance 1,200 miles; actual flying time, 15 hours and 18 minutes, or 918 minutes; average speed 78.40 miles an hour.

Horta to Ponta Delgada, distance 150 miles; actual flying time, 1 hour and 45 minutes, or 105 minutes; average speed 85.68 miles an hour.

Ponta Delgada to Lisbon, distance 800 miles; actual flying time, 9 hours and 44 minutes, or 584 minutes; average speed 82.14 miles an hour.

Rockaway to Lisbon distance 3,150 miles; actual flying time, 43 hours and 33 minutes, or 2,613 minutes; average speed 72 miles an hour.

The actually trans-Atlantic voyage was from Trepassey Bay to Lisbon, a distance of 2,150 miles, in three jumps. The flying from Rockaway to Trepassey Bay was merely preliminary to the main trans-ocean flight just as the rest of the journey from Lisbon to Plymouth is merely supplementary and not officially counted as part of the trans-Atlantic flight. The showing for this part of the flight

Trepassey to Lisbon, distance 2,150 miles; actual flying time, 26 hours and 47 minutes, or 1,607 minutes; average speed 79.80 miles an hour.

OHIO COUNTY'S TOLL OF LIFE DURING WAR

Thirty-five human lives was the ghastly toll the world war took of Ohio county. Of these thirteen were killed in action, six died of wounds and sixteen died of disease. It is, of course, possible this number may be yet increased before our boys are all mustered out of the service. The dead, with the manner of their deaths, follow:

Killed In Action.

Robert Davis, Hartford.
Cecil Draper, Williams Mines.
James Stone, Hartford.
James O. Durall, Rockport.
Clarence Gabbert, Sunnydale.
Mathias Higgs, Fordsville.
Malin A. Benton, Hartford.
John O. Laws, Hartford.
Eddie Lee, Narrows.
Chester Reed, Manda.
Beachamp W. Willoughby, Horse Branch.

Corbet Lake, Hartford.
Lee Keith, Horse Branch.

Died Of Wounds.

Lee Brown, Echols.
John Crowe, Fordsville.
Ira B. Goff, Horse Branch.
Jesús Walter Long, Sulphur Springs.
Willie Orr, Reynolds.

Douglas Taylor, Narrows.

Died Of Disease.

Samuel Alsip, Horton.
David M. Barnes, Prentiss.
Presley Kissinger, Echols.
Geo. Stevens, Beaver Dam.
Jesse V. Crowe, Hartford.
Charlie King, Hartford.
Virgil Kiper, Baizetown.
Charles C. Main, Beaver Dam.
Wavy B. Malin, Beaver Dam.
Herman Morris, Hartford.
John A. Rucker, Hartford. (col.)
Leslie Shields, Cromwell.
Virgil E. Stone, Hartford.
Fred A. Tanner, Hartford.
Charles Wakeland, Rockport.
Walter A. Williams, Rosine.

YOUNG MAN IN A DOUBLE TROUBLE

Alton Paris, a young man of the Buford country, has gotten into a bad row for stumps. He left Jefferson Barracks, Mo., without leave and came home the first of the month. Several days ago he went to visit his cousin, Clarence Hudson, near Cromwell, and he and young Hudson went out buggy driving with a girl each. As a result of the trip Paris is in jail charged with detaining a woman, and Hudson is reported to be a fugitive, under a similar charge. The warrant for the arrest of the boys was sworn out by Warren Shields on complaint of his daughter who was riding with Paris. The girl with Hudson was a Miss Kitchens. It is reported that after Paris had made improper proposals to Miss Shields she and the Kitchens girl left the young men and hid in the woods until they had driven away. Paris was arrested in Owensboro Friday, and sheriff Bratcher met the sheriff of Davies county at the county line and brought the boy here. Paris had sheriff Bratcher notify the captain of his company of his whereabouts and the reason of his failure to return to his command.

FIGHT WITH STRANGER.

Fege Morris is suffering with two stab wounds in his body, and his memory is a bit hazy about how it all came about. Fege moved his all came about. Fege moved his family to Owensboro Wednesday, and while returning in a wagon from that city engaged in an altercation on the road, with the stab wounds mentioned, resulting. Fege's story, as reported to us, is that while on the way back from Owensboro he engaged in a fight with a stranger he met on the road. He does not know who the man was, or just what the trouble was about, as he had been drinking during the day. The wounds are not serious.

MEMORIAL SERVICE POSTPONED.

The memorial and decoration service at Oakwood cemetery which was intended to have been held by Rough River Lodge No. 110 Knights of Pythias at 4 p. m. next Sunday, June 1st, has been postponed until 4 p. m., Sunday, June 3, at which time the graves of departed Knights will be decorated and a memorial address delivered. Program will be published in next issue.

THE ROADS CAMPAIGN ON IN FULLBLAST

Owensboro-Bowling Green And State Line In Project.

The long overdue good roads campaign is now on in Ohio county in full blast. The Owensboro-Bowling Green post road is practically a certainty, and the State Line road seems more than probable.

Engineers Wilson, of Ohio county, Spurrier, of Davies county and division engineer Crozier, began a preliminary survey of the Owensboro-Bowling Green route yesterday morning. They met at Maxwell, went over the Maxwell-Heflin route and then doubled back the Buford-Pleasant Ridge route. Today they will work on through by Beaver Dam, Cromwell and to Green river. They are making this preliminary survey for the purpose of reporting to the state road commissioner a general estimate of the most feasible route and the probable cost of construction. Their report will be in the hands of the state road commissioner sometime next week, after which, if their report is approved, the federal engineers will make an accurate survey and calculate the actual cost of the work. It will be upon the report of the federal engineers that the building of the road will be determined upon.

The money to be raised by popular subscription for building Ohio county's part of this road is in sight, provided the Heflin-Maxwell route is decided upon. Citizens living along the Buford-Pleasant Ridge route have so far raised only about six thousand dollars. This is several thousand less than the amount that would be required to secure the road being built over that route.

The State Line, or Louisville-Paducah road, is exciting much interest throughout western Kentucky, and the construction of this road seems to be more than a probability. The Louisville Automobile Club is interested in the project, and giving it much encouragement. The building of the great Sanitarium at Dawson Springs adds to the probability of this highway. A definite location has not been made, but a proposal much favored is to run from Camp Knox, to which point the road has been already constructed from Louisville, to Leitchfield, thence to Falls of Rough, or Heights Falls, through Fordsville, Whitesville, Owensboro, Calhoun, Greenville and on through Dawson Springs to Paducah. The route of the State Line will depend in some measure upon local support, and the citizens of Horse Branch, Rosine, McHenry and Rockport will be given an opportunity to take up the matter of locating the route along the I. C. railroad through the county.

TRUSTEES TO MEET TO ELECT TEACHERS

The trustees of the various school divisions, with the exception of division No. 2, will meet the first Saturday in June to elect teachers. Division No. 1, will meet at Barnett's Creek; No. 3, at Dundee; No. 4, at Rosine; No. 5, at Green Briar and No. 6, at Centertown. On account of the possibility of a tobacco planting season occurring on that date, division No. 2 asked for the privilege of deferring the date of its meeting, if found desirable. At these meetings teachers for the various districts will be elected and contracts entered into.

SEEKING TO SUNDER THE TIES THAT BIND

Three petitions for sundering the galling ties of matrimony have been recently filed in the circuit court. Arthur Daniel prays the court to decree his separation from Marian Daniel. He alleges they were married in 1915, in California, and that some time last year Marian pined for the Pacific coast atmosphere, and hid herself westward, with no promise of returning.

Mary Hardin Browning asks to be released from marital bondage with J. E. Browning. Mary says she and J. E. were sealed for time and eternity in March 1918, and that in June, J. E. deserted and left the state. No charge of cruel or inhuman treatment is alleged in her petition, and she asks nothing of the deserter-husband but the restoration of her freedom.

The case of Florence Tucker Taylor against C. T. Taylor appears a little more tragical than the other two mentioned. The Taylors were married in 1915, and to the unhappy union were born two children. The plaintiff alleges that all told the defendant lived with her only about five months, and that he left the state without the forethought of making provision for the care of herself or children. The petition alleges the customary cruel and inhuman treatment and settled aversion etc. It is a notable coincidence that of the three divorce proceedings one of the parties in each case is out of the state.

TEACHERS EXAMINED.

Examination for certificates to teach school was held here Friday and Saturday of last week. Thirty applicants appeared for examination. Of these fifteen made first class grades, ten second class and five failed. Those making class grades were:

Bessie Allen, Beaver Dam, 85 6-12.
Cora Thomasson, Hartford, 85 11-12.
Earl Smith, Select, 90 3-4.
O. N. Stewart, Beaver Dam, 86 9-12.
C. B. Shown, Bada, 90 11-12.
May Byers, Horse Branch, 89 7-12.
Martine Taylor, Cromwell, 86 3-12.
Lola Westerfield, Fordsville, 85 2-12.

E. F. Liles, Renfrow, 94.
Mrs. S. O. Keown, Hartford, 89 6-12.
Louis Baker, Beaver Dam, 88 5-12.
Myrtle Calvert, Centertown, 85 3-12.

J. W. Myers, Olaton, 85 2-12.
Bessie Hazelrigg, Beaver Dam, 85.
Ethel Gilliam, Narrows, 86 2-12.
Eva May Smith, Hartford, 75 4-12.
Mamie Williams, Centertown, 76 11-12.

J. B. Petty, Fordsville, 76 3-12.
Margaret Tomerlin, Beaver Dam, 78 1-12.
Lillie Chinn, Beaver Dam, 77 9-12.
Dona Fugua, Hartford, 77.
Will Shields, Cromwell, 75.
Mrs. O. N. Stewart, B. D., 77 3-12.
Rosa Cheek, Fordsville, 79 3-4.
Eva Thomasson, Hartford, 77 4-12.

AUTOMOBILE WEDDING.

Stanley Gilstrap and May Miller, both of Select, were married while seated in an automobile, at the north entrance to the court house, Saturday evening, Judge Cook waving the magic wand that made them one. County clerk Blankenship and Judge Cook have become so adept at license issuing and nuptial knot tying that it is scarcely necessary for an anxious pair to stop their machine for the execution of the ceremony. With a little more practice they will probably be able to unite by wireless couples sailing over the court house in an aeroplane.

LOCATE PART OF FEDERAL HIGHWAY

Dawson Springs, Ky., May 23.—Representatives and the county judges of thirteen counties met here today to locate the route of the East and West Central highway, which is to run from Camp Knox, near Louisville, to Paducah.

It was determined that north of Dawson Springs, from Camp Knox to this city, the road should run through Hopkins, Muhlenburg, McLean, Davies, Ohio, Grayson, Hardin and part of Breckinridge counties. South of Dawson Springs, the route from here to Paducah, was left to Caldwell, McCracken, Livingston, Crittenden and Lyon counties to settle among themselves.

Friction on this part of the road developed between Crittenden and Lyon counties and prevented a designation of the route today. These counties are to meet at Paducah before June 15 and settle as to which shall have the highway.

The counties north of Dawson Springs will meet at Owensboro June 10 or 11. At that time reports will be submitted from all the fiscal courts of these counties, stating the routes selected. At the same time the Ohio river route convention will be held. Rodman Wiley, commissioner of public highways of Kentucky, and United States representative will be present to pass upon the proposed routes.

An arm of the East and West highway will be extended through Crittenden county. The fiscal courts are to meet in ten days to designate the routes.

DEEP CUTS BE MADE IN APPROPRIATIONS

Big Government Expenses And Economy Is Imperative.

Washington, May 27.—Necessity for sharply reducing appropriations for government expenditures was urged upon the House today by Representatives Fess, of Ohio, and Moore, of Pennsylvania, Republicans. Each declared that unless radical retrenchments were made the government would have to go to the people for another loan.

Mr. Moore criticized the policy of the House Appropriation Committee in reporting out appropriation bills which failed in the last session without conducting careful hearings to determine whether reductions could be made.

"Unless our committees begin to go into details with regard to these appropriations," Mr. Moore said, "we are going to run up against troubles times in the Republican party, as the Democrats ran up against troubles times up to the moment they let go their power."

Repeal of sections of the war revenue bill levying taxes on semi-luxuries might be advisable, Mr. Moore said, but such action would place the country in a serious financial predicament unless appropriations for various government activities were cut down.

"We passed a revenue bill that was presumed to provide $6,000,000,000 for the next fiscal year," he stated, "but that bill was so manipulated that it finally provided for only $4,000,000,000. Expenses next year will run up to over $7,000,000,000. Members of the Ways and Means Committee say, and members of the Appropriations Committee declare, that according to the estimates already in, our appropriations next year will amount to between $9,000,000,000 and $10,000,000,000. That will leave a deficit of $6,000,000,000."

"A large part of the money obtained from the Victory loan was spent before it was received," the Ohio representative said. "At the beginning of this month there was only $2,226,000,000 left. We are spending about $1,400,000,000 a month, so in two months this surplus will be gone as well."

Mr. Fess urged that government departments obtain the largest sums possible from the sale of surplus war stocks and that foreign governments to which this country loaned money during the war be compelled to pay the interest on the loans promptly.

BREWERS GET FREE REIN BY JUDGE'S ACTION

New York, May 27.—Federal Judge Mayer today signed three injunctions, identical in form, restraining the United States District Attorney and the acting Collector of Internal Revenue of the New York district from inter-beer."

The injunctions granted last week and operative throughout the country to prevent Government action against manufacturers of beer of 2 1/2 per cent, alcoholic content, enjoin the Federal officials from enforcing against the defendants or their employees provisions of the emergency prohibition act, as it relates to the beer industry. The injunction, according to Judge Mayer's order, will stand pending judicial determination of the brewers' contention that beer of the strength indicated is not intoxicating.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

Never before in the memory of the oldest inhabitant has crop prospect in Ohio county appeared so discouraging at this season of the year as it does now. The incessant rains of the past month have made farm work almost wholly impossible. With the end of May less than ten per cent of the corn crop is planted, and were the rains to cease now little more than half a corn crop could be planted. Tobacco planting is a little farther advanced, but not more than fifteen per cent of this crop has been set. The wet weather has reduced the possible yield of the wheat crop, and unless weather conditions improve within the next ten days, when the harvest will begin, this crop will be almost a total loss. Wheat heads are reported short and filling poor at either end of the head. Fruit conditions are better than was sometime ago expected, though the poorest in many years. The black berry bloom indicates a bumper crop of jam fruit. The extreme wet weather seems to be confined to a limited territory, of which Ohio county appears to be the center.

DOG TAGS NOW GOING AT FIFTEEN DOLLARS

A record price for a dog tag was made here Monday when Jack Evans, of Fordsville, paid fifteen dollars for one, in Judge Cook's court. County clerk, Blankenship, beginning January the first, sold over three thousand dog tags at one dollar apiece, but those who neglected to buy them from the clerk must now pay fifteen dollars to Judge Cook for such failure. The officials have been patient with the people and have given them abundant time to procure dog tags, but now the crusade is on, and those who have not procured tags for their dogs will be haled into county court and fined for having failed to obey the law.

FORMER HOME BOY TAKES SCHOOL HONOR

The American-Press, Lake Charles, Louisiana, in reporting the commencement exercises of the Vinto High school, has this pleasing mention of a former Ohio county boy, Thomas Ragland, formerly of Horse Branch.

"The Valedictorian for the class of 1919 was Thomas Ragland, whose school term was interrupted by the war, but who served his short term of service, returned to his class, and was awarded the valedictory upon sheer merit, after several months loss of time."

Young Ragland is a son of Bob Ragland, and a grand-son of M. S. Ragland, deceased, former county court clerk of Ohio county. Friends of the Ragland family, and they are numerous in Hartford and the county, will learn with pleasure of the boy's honor.

GIRL KNOWN HERE.

Wednesday's Courier Journal carried an electro of Miss Elizabeth Ellis, of Sturgis, with mention that she won first prize in declamation in the Central Interscholastic contest. The paper says: "Besides being a talented reader and musician, Miss Ellis made an enviable record in the Sturgis High School, where she was a junior, having maintained a place on the honor roll the entire year." Miss Ellis is a daughter of Mr. Charlie Ellis, formerly of Hartford, who is now cashier of a bank at Sturgis.

W. W. BROWDER WRITES OF HIS TRIP HOME

County Farm Agent, McCracken, has received a letter from Mr. W. W. Browder, in which the latter recounts some of his experiences in an automobile trip to his new home in Alabama. Mr. Browder writes:

"Dear Mr. McCracken:—I was glad to hear from you, and very much appreciated your courtesy in sending me the mail. I had to remain over home longer than I had expected, on account of the rains, and then got stuck in the mud when two miles from home. A man and two negro boys took a wire and pulled me out while I operated the machine. This was all the trouble I had outside of a puncture from a buggy tack, which made several holes in a tire."

We traveled 433 miles on 18 gallons of gasoline, over mountain and some very rough roads, or twenty-four miles to the gallon. What do you think of that?"

Would have written you sooner but have been trying to get straightened out. It takes me nearly as long to walk over this big farm as it did to go over Ohio county, and you know that was going home."

This place gets prettier to me all the time. I can run here Montgomery in about twenty-five minutes, and not a hill to climb. We are now cutting our oats which are dead ripe. Peaches are ripe and fine, and so are blackberries."

Remember me to my friends in Ohio county.

Very truly yours,
W. W. BROWDER.

Mrs. Nancy Jane Royal died at her home, near Deanfield, Tuesday of last week. She was the widow of John Royal, deceased, and was 75 years old at the time of her death.

SUPERPOISON GAS IS DEVELOPED

New Product's Output Was Ten Tons Per Day Prior
To Nov. 11.

Washington, May 24.—At the educational expositions, illustrating the wartime and reconstruction activities of the Department of the Interior, now being held there is being shown under guard or a sample of the most terrible superpoison gas known, the discovery of Prof. W. Lee Lewis, while in the employ of the Bureau of Mines at its American University laboratories.

This gas, formerly called "Lewisite," later known as "Methyl," because the latter name meant nothing to curious persons, was being manufactured by the War Department at the rate of ten tons a day when the armistice was signed.

The gas being variously described as "the climax of the country's achievements in the lethal arts" and as "the most terrible instrument of manslaughter ever conceived." The department itself declares of all war gases, much more deadly than mustard gas, which heretofore was known by chemists as "the king of poison gases." It is said that ten airplane loads of "Methyl" would have been sufficient to destroy all life in Berlin, if such extreme measures had been necessary, and that a single day's output would have been sufficient to snuff out the 4,000,000 human lives on the island of Manhattan.

This gas was not only discovered by Prof. Lewis, but was also developed by him to a point where it was ready for production at the American University while these laboratories were still under the control of the Bureau of Mines, one of the organizations of the Department of the Interior. When this work was first taken up by the bureau in behalf of the military authorities, Prof. Lewis was called from his civilian duties as professor of chemistry at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and at the request of the bureau was commissioned as captain in the ordnance department and assigned to the gas warfare service of the Bureau of Mines.

Work is Taken Over.

While acting in this capacity, Captain Lewis discovered and developed this gas and eighteen days after the gas work of the Bureau of Mines was transferred to the jurisdiction of the War Department an eleven-acre plant for its manufacture was started near Cleveland, Ohio, where the work was conducted under the strictest military secrecy. This plant, which was dubbed by the workmen the "mouse-trap" because in order to prevent the leakage of information, it was understood that the men who entered would never leave until the war was over, was in operation within a miraculously short time, and plans were made by the war department to have 3,000 tons of this most diabolical gas at the American front by March 1, 1919. When the armistice came the plant was well ahead of its production schedule, but the opportunity had not come for the use of the gas at the battle front. Thus the Germans did not have a chance to obtain a first-hand experience with this most frightful of all poison gases, of which it is said that a single drop on the hand will penetrate to the blood and soon reach the heart, when it kills the victim in great agony. It is declared that among the 800 men at the plant there was not one fatality, this immunity being largely due to the providing of all employees with gas masks, protective clothing and extreme precautions.

WHALE MILK MARKET ON PACIFIC RESORT

Los Angeles, May 24.—A whale dairy on Catalina Island, famous resort in the Pacific, where domesticated whale would give milk for canning and other purposes, is a possibility of the not far distant future, according to Captain John D. Loop, pioneer whaler of Southern California, who has taken up the proposition with William Wrigley, Jr., millionaire manufacturer and recent purchaser of the island.

Captain Loop, who has killed many whales in his time says whale milk is excellent, richer than cow's milk and each whale yields a larger quantity relatively, than the far-famed Jersey.

The one obstacle that exists is a way of milking the cows. The captain, however, is now hard at work on a milking device he believes will prove practicable.

In Scammon's lagoon, on the coast of Lower California, there is a whale dairy established by the whales themselves. There are twelve cows and twelve calves there now. Captain Loop, who found the dairy, claims it as his.

Captain Loop and his companions, Capt. Jack Stevens and Bert Stevens, recently returned from a cruise off the Lower California coast during which they killed five whales. On this cruise they visited the lagoon.

Among the whales they killed was a cow and they tested the quantity of the milk thoroughly. They found it fully equal to ordinary milk in their coffee.

There are several places on the coast of California, he says, peculiarly adapted to the establishment of a whale dairy.

Captain Loop's home is in Long Beach, Cal. He has captured many whales in the channel between the mainland and Catalina. Lately he has been going farther afield for his game.

HOW OLD IS ANN?

By Walt Mason.

If Ann looks on this planet fair, as being right side up with care; if she is glad there's work to do, and useful errands to pursue; and if she sings while plying broom, or dusting up the sitting room, or frying pan-cakes for the men, or fooling round the sitting hen; why, Ann's as young as any lass that ever owned a looking-glass. If Ann's contented with her lot, and thinks her home a beauty spot; if she enjoys the humble chore and smiling looks around for more; and if she likes to talk and joke with all the blithe Farm Journal folk, the years don't do a thing to Ann—she's young as when she first began! If Ann detests her daily tasks, and if for gilded ease she asks; if she's inclined to fret and whine, and shed large drops of furtive brine; if discontent disturbs her days, and follows her in all her ways, she may be young in counted years, but she's as old as Adam's steers. The youngest, gayest girl I know has hair as white as driven snow. The years don't make us young or old, save as the outward signs are told; the swift years come and then depart, but age or youth is in the heart.—The Farm Journal.

Cataract Cannot Be Cured

With LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Cataract is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Cataract Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Cataract Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Cataract Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in cataractal conditions. Send for testimonials, free.

AMERICAN EXPERTS THINK TERMS MARCH

London, May 23.—Six members of the American peace commission have resigned as a protest against the peace terms. They are not plenipotentiaries whose signatures are to be affixed to the treaty, but members of the large staff of American experts who have assisted in compiling the technical data required in the territorial, economic, financial and other deliberations. A Paris dispatch says the six resigning experts have been requested to remain at their posts pending further consideration of their cases.

The same dispatch says Dr. E. T. Williams, head of the Far Eastern bureau of the State Department, for many years, who resigned in protest against the Shantung settlement, has left Paris for the United States.

Garvin, acknowledged as the deepest student of continental politics, elaborates on the labor arguments in a sensational attack on the spirit of the peace treaty.

"It is admitted," he says, "that the treaty leaves a hundred million central Europeans no hope whatever but of ultimate repudiation and revenge."

"The German principles against which we fought are borrowed to apply against the Germans. It is a treaty of punishment in the ascendancy."

"What we have got is a bastard peace—army aggression to be continued over thirty years. Already, apart from the indemnities and future penalties, the Germans have been punished like no other people in history."

Terms it "War Pact."

"Ask Americans if they really understand what kind of a treaty their commissioners are asked to affix their names to. Ask Americans if they realize this is no treaty of peace, but a treaty of war, leaving millions facing an indefinite period of serfdom and despair, with no motive except the single idea of revenge. Put it to Americans baldly—will they be parties to the continuation of the pre-war schemes of balance of power, magnified a hundredfold in iniquity?"

The American who thus spoke to your correspondent today is one who has participated in the work of the American peace commission since December as an expert, and now, at his own request, is detached and on the way home. Unfortunately, I am not privileged to use his name because he is still technically a government officer, but he tells me his views are shared by many of the American staff at Paris.

I have used my informant's words at the head of this dispatch because they shed light on the significant reactionary wave among American peace officials. This feeling against the peace terms as they stand is daily growing stronger as Germany's fatal hour approaches.

Not only from socialists, among whom the reaction was expected, but from some of the most conservative thinkers and publicists here in Britain there comes a growing chorus of protest against the terms which are denounced as sowing the seeds of future wars more bitter and terrible than the last.

Barbed wire cuts, ragged wounds, collar and harness galls heal up quickly when Ballard's Snow Lintment is applied. It is both healing and antiseptic. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Ohio County Drug Co., Incorporated.

TAFFY.

(From last Weewk.)

The rainy weather seems to be putting every one behind with his farm work.

Miss Jessie Lee and Willie Bee Holbrook spent Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in Fordsville, attending the Commencement exercise.

Mr. and Mrs. Hosea Shown spent Monday and Tuesday in Owensboro.

Mrs. Felix Van Russyburg is very ill.

Miss Edna Shown and Miss Mary Hale spent Friday and Saturday in Fordsville visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Westerfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Cicero Mullen and Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Brooks were the guests of Mr. Lonnie McCarty and family Sunday.

Several from here attended the foot washing at Mt. Zion, Sunday.

Mr. Arthur Rhoads and Mr. Horace Fuqua left Tuesday for Detroit, where they expect to work during the summer.

WHEN HE COULDN'T GET LIQUOR HE WANTED IT

Cincinnati, May 24.—"I am 54 years of age and I never took a drink of whisky until West Virginia went dry."

This statement was made to the court by James W. Peters, real estate dealer of that state, who was indicted for carrying liquor into dry territory.

"When I couldn't get it I wanted it," Peters said.

Horse Sense About Tobacco

Good tobacco ought to be like a well-bred hoss—all th' kick taken out but all th' sperit left in.

You see, half the secret of makin' a good hoss is in the breedin' an' half in the breakin'. Selectin' tobacco that's grown right is only half of makin' Velvet. The agein' is the other half.

Thar's only one kind of agein' that gets th' right results — Nature's own. Nature's no clock watcher. She does a job right whether it takes two years or two thousand.

So when she gets through with the fine Kentucky Burley that we put away in wooden hogsheads for two years, it's just right.

KEEP OFF PARALYSIS AND HARDENED ARTERIES

"Alternatives which change by some inexplicable manner certain morbid conditions of the system are of great benefit in nervous diseases, in paralysis, arteriosclerosis, glandular troubles, lupus, fistulous and carious ulcers."—Dr. Mason, in U. S. Dispensatory. "Number 40 For The Blood" contains all the alternatives alluded to in the above and is therefore indicated in paralysis, arterio-sclerosis, scrofula, chronic rheumatism, nodes, tumors, lupus and all diseases of the blood. Also in constipation, hepatic congestions, dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Try it. Sold by Ohio Co. Drug Company.

"In the olden days a gentleman used to call upon a lady with much formality and stately ceremony. 'Well?' 'Now he merely drives up and honks for her to come out.'

Cause of Headache.
By knowing the cause, a disease may often be avoided. This is particularly true of headache. The most common cause of headache is a disordered stomach or constipation, which may be corrected by taking a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets. Try it. Many others have obtained permanent relief by taking these Tablets. They are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.

SWISS PAPER BITTER AGAINST THE LEAGUE

Bernes, Thursday, May 22.—The New Gazette, of Zurich, a newspaper with Ententophile leanings, characterizes the note addressed to the Swiss Government by the Peace Conference asking whether it would be willing and ready to enforce a more severe blockade against Germany. It necessary, as "a smashing blow against self-determination by small nations" and a bitter illustration of President Ador's declaration that Switzerland can enter the League of Nations with a proud and erect head. Confidence in the League of Nations, it is pointed out, is diminished in Switzerland generally as a result of the note, and the opposition to the country entering the league is growing.

WORLD DRY CONGRESS OPENED IN TORONTO

Toronto, May 22.—Progress of the prohibition movement and of temperance legislation in various parts of the world was described by speakers to-day at the opening session of the World Prohibition Conference, called as a preliminary to the Congress in Washington in June. England, France, Italy, the United States, Canada, Ireland, Scotland, Japan, Switzerland, New Zealand, Australia and Denmark were represented by delegates.

KENTUCKY'S RICH HERITAGE

Successful Development of a Great National Industry in Kentucky—A New Field of Opportunity

People of Kentucky are beginning to recognize the importance of oil in the state. It has certainly brought some tremendous investments to Louisville in the nature of oil refineries. Another large oil refinery will be built immediately adjoining the Standard Oil plant there.

It is said that Henry Ford, of Detroit, is largely interested in this proposition. Mr. Ford has always been interested in cheap fuel for cars and tractors, and the development of the gasoline engine has made a tremendous demand for fuel for motive power.

The adaptation of the gas engine for so many new and diverse purposes, the airplane, steamships and railroad trains, etc., would seem to indicate that we are entering upon a new era where oil for fuel will be THE great demand.

The Possibilities in Kentucky.

The possibilities of Kentucky as an oil producing state have only recently been recognized, and so far the development has met with pronounced success. In fact, the profit would seem extravagant, but it is a matter of record that the percentage of failures in the Kentucky oil fields is comparatively low, and the cost of drilling much less than in other fields.

Fifteen years ago Mr. S. J. Gish, a mineral expert with wide experience in Western Kentucky, an associate of Gen. T. C. Dupont in his coal development, was convinced that a large pool of oil of unusual proportion existed in the western part of the state.

A Producer of "Liquid Gold" Hid in the Woods at Diamond Springs.

He was also a man of vision and saw that the near future would disclose a demand for oil, the scope of which would be almost impossible to calculate. When that time arrived the oil industry would come into its own and yield handsome returns. Accordingly he bought up a large tract of land and made the most careful tests and waited for the opportune time to disclose this FIND to the general public.

Development Has Begun.

The Equitable Oil and Gas Co. has now taken over all this land held in such esteem by Mr. Gish. They think the time has arrived for its fullest development.

The Equitable Oil and Gas Corporation was recently organized at Wilmington, Delaware, for the purpose of taking over and operating the Diamond Springs Oil and Gas Field. Its authorized capital is $5,000,000, and the par value of its shares $1.00 each, and no stock is to be sold under par. The management of the company is exceptionally strong, being composed of some of the leading and most successful oil and business men of the state. Two hundred and fifty thousand shares of the capital stock have been allotted for sale at the par value of $1.00 per share, the proceeds of the sale of this stock to be used for the immediate drilling of additional oil and gas wells and for such other purposes as may serve to put the company on a dividend basis at the earliest possible moment.

Logan County the Field.

The land is situated in Logan County, and is known as the Diamond Springs Field. That it is rich in oil is news to the general public, but for at least fifteen years it has been under the observation of mineral experts and geologists and subjected to the severest tests known to science.

Dozens of wells were drilled here and a quarter of a million dollars was spent in experimental and development work. Some of the oil wells drilled are reported to have gushed oil far above the derricks, and, after being pumped for from ten to fourteen years, these wells are still producing oil in quantities not believed to be equalled by wells half so old in any other part of the state.

Gas wells were drilled with a reported daily production of two and three million cubic feet, which are still producing large volumes of gas today, without any indication of becoming exhausted. Operations continued without publicity until a territory embracing nearly 5,000 acres was tested, and then it was saved, practically hidden by nature, from the watchful eye of the general public and the oil and gas prospector, until crude oil had come into its own and the opportune time for its complete development had arrived.

The Price of Oil.
Oil is now selling at the highest prices in the history of the industry.

The gas fields of Eastern Kentucky and West Virginia are rapidly becoming depleted and West Virginia has recently enacted a law prohibiting the transportation of natural gas out of that state. The future of the oil industry is fixed and it has established itself as the greatest money-making industry of the age.

The plans of the Equitable Oil and Gas Co. are comprehensive. Apart from oil production, they propose to install "Casing Head" plants and produce enough gasoline as a by-product to pay all operation expenses.

They propose to supply natural gas to all the surrounding cities within a radius of seventy-five miles—they have already pipe lines to Dunmore, Lewisburg and Russellville.

For the production of oil they have approximately twenty-five thousand acres of leases and two drilling rigs already on the ground. Their plans also contemplate the installation of a modern refinery. This is said to be the safest and most profitable branch of the oil industry. With so many chances of profit failure would seem almost impossible.

The First Oil Well.

The story of the finding of the first oil well in Kentucky is well known and has many versions. One version is that a man drilling for salt, to his great consternation, struck oil.

Contrary to the advice of the oldest inhabitants this man persisted in drilling for salt in an unpromising spot. He swore that he would dig until he found salt or hell. One day he found his salt diggins in flames. He thought he had found hell, and raising hell not being a popular pastime in Kentucky, he stood not upon his order of his leaving, but left at once for parts unknown. We repeat this story as an evidence of the changed attitude of the oil industry. Today a man thinks it is hell to strike salt.

The Oil Banquet at Louisville.

Another significant indication of the change in sentiment toward the oil industry is to be given by the Board of Trade to the oil men, recognizing this industry as one of immense importance to the state.

For the benefit of those interested the Equitable Oil Co. have just printed a souvenir booklet, "An Interesting Story of Hidden Wealth." It contains a complete history of the discovery and development of the Diamond Springs Field. A copy of this book, we understand, may be had for the asking so long as the edition lasts. It is full of exceedingly interesting and valuable information, and will prove a decided addition to the library of the man or woman interested in oil.

THE OTHER FELLOW.

(Anonymous.)

By M. F. Chumley.

Here is a toast I want to drink to a fellow I'll never know—

To the fellow who's going to take my place when it's time for me to go. I've wondered what kind of a chap he'll be, and I've wished I could take his hand.

Just to whisper, "I wish you well, old man," in a way that he'd understand.

I'd like to give him the cheering word that I've longed at times to hear; I'd like to give him the warm hand clasp, when never a friend seems near.

I've learned my knowledge by sheer hard work, and I wish I could pass it on.

To the fellow who'll come to take my place, some day when I am gone

Will he see all the sad mistakes I've made and note all the battles I've lost?

Will he ever guess of the tears they caused or the heartaches which they cost?

Will he gaze through the failures and fruitless toil to the underlying plan.

And catch a glimpse of the real intent and the heart of the vanquished man?

I dare to hope he will pause some day as he toils, as I have wrought, And gain some strength for his weary task from the battles which I have fought.

But I've only the task itself to leave with the cares for him to face, And never a cheering word may speak to the fellow who'll take my place.

Then here's to your health old chap; I drink as a groom to his bride;

I leave an unfinished task for you, but God knows how I've tried, I've dreamed my dreams as all men do, but never a one came true;

And my prayer today is that all the dreams may be realized by you. And we'll meet some day in the great unknown—out in the realms of space;

Yes, I know my clasp as I take your hand and gaze in your tired face, Then all your failures will be success, in the light of the new found dawn—

So I'm drinking your health old chap, who'll take my place when I'm gone.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Soldier May Change Beneficiary.

Ques. On entering the army I took out $10,000 government life insurance and had the policy made payable to my wife. Recently I was told that if my wife should die before I do all that I have paid in premiums will be lost. Is that true?—Ans. No; you may name someone else as beneficiary—child, parent, brother or sister—and if none is named insurance would be paid to such person or persons in permitted class of beneficiaries as under laws of your state would be entitled to your personal property if you should die without having made a will.

Second and Third Cousins.

Ques. What are second and third cousins?—Ans. Standard Dictionary says: "The children of brothers or sisters are first cousins; the children of first cousins are second cousins, etc. A first cousin once removed is the child of one's first cousin; a first cousin twice removed is the grandchild of one's first cousin, etc. A second cousin once removed is the child of one's second cousin, etc. A first cousin once removed is sometimes called a second cousin, a second cousin, a third cousin, and so on."

Which is Fourth Finger?

Ques. Which finger of the hand is the fourth?—Ans. Some call the little finger the fourth; others count the thumb as the first, making one next to little finger fourth.

Sympathetic Inks.

Ques. Please tell me how to make ink that will remain invisible until the paper on which it is written is exposed to heat or light.—Ans. Characters written with weak solution of nitrate of copper remain invisible until paper is heated when they come out in red color. Writing in ink consisting of slightly alcoholic solution of bromide of copper cannot be seen until paper is heated gently. It disappears when paper cools. Plain lemon juice may also be used. Characters, it is said, do not show up until moderately hot smoothing iron is applied to paper when they appear in brown color. Write with solution of one part nitrate of silver in 1000 parts distilled water if you wish characters to remain invisible until paper is exposed to light.

Soldier's Life Insurance.

Ques. A soldier who had taken out $10,000 government life insurance but named no beneficiary died in France. In this case, I understand, the insurance will go to his mother. Will the payments of insurance cease at her death provided that all have not been made at that time?—Ans. War risk insurance act provides: "If no beneficiary within the permitted class (spouse, child, grandchild, parent, brother or sister) be designated by the insured, either in his lifetime or by his last will and testament, or if the designated beneficiary does not survive the insured, the insurance shall be payable to such person or persons within the permitted class of beneficiaries as would under the laws of the state of the residence of the insured be entitled to his personal property in case of intestacy. If no such person survive the insured, then there shall be paid to the estate of the insured an amount equal to the reserve value, if any, of the insurance at the time of his death, calculated on the basis of the American experience table of mortality and three and one-half per centum interest in full of all obligations under the contract of insurance."

Horsehairs Don't Become Snakes.

Ques. Is it true that the hair from a horse's tail will turn into a snake if kept immersed in water?—Ans. No. It is popularly supposed that so-called horse-hair snakes are produced in this manner but they are really hairworms which are parasitic in the bodies of grasshoppers and other insects when young but which inhabit running water in adult stage. Fact that they resemble horse hair and are found in water naturally leads to supposition that they are metamorphosed horse hairs.

Punishment of Deserter.

Ques. What will become of a man who was drafted into the army and deserted?—Ans. If caught he will be tried and punished, severity of penalty depending on circumstances of case.

Reclamation of Rubber.

Ques. Please tell me how to melt old rubber at home so that it can be run into molds for rubber balls, etc.—Ans. Rubber when once vulcanized can't be "melted". It can be reclaimed and worked over but this is difficult process, requiring in most instances elaborate, expensive apparatus. Following is one method given for rendering this material plastic: Pulverize rubber and mix with solution of calcium sulphide and tar. Heat mixture from 24 to 60 hours in closed digester to dissolve out sulphur added in process of vulcanization. Tar is later distilled off at reduced pressure. Mass is then stirred and washed with hot water.

"Czecho-Slovak" Defined.

Ques. What does the term "Czecho-Slovak" mean; also "Czech"?—Ans. "Czech" is the Slav name for people of Slav race living in Bohemia, Silesia and Moravia. The Slovaks are also a Slav people, living mostly in Slovakia, or what was northwestern part of Hungary. These areas, according to peace plan, are included in new Czecho-Slovak nation, which has been recognized by allies. Slovakia should not be confused with Slavonia; Slavonia is also inhabited largely by people of Slav extraction, but this area is farther south, below Danube and Darve rivers.

Government Purchases of Liberty Bonds.

Ques. I have read of the government having bought many Liberty bonds. To whom shall I address inquiry concerning such sales?—Ans. Government doesn't buy bonds from individuals. It buys them only on the market at times when prices drop too low. This is done to stabilize prices and discourage any tendency to force them much below par.

World's Highest Mountains.

Ques. Please name the highest mountains in the world.—Ans. Mt. Everest, in Asia, 29,002 feet; Mt. Aconcagua, in South America, 23,080 feet; Mt. McKinley, in North America, 20,300 feet; Mt. Kilimanjaro or Kibo, in Africa, 19,680 feet; Mt. Blanc in Europe, 15,782 feet; Mt. Kosciusko, in Australia, 7,328 feet.

The Word "Dirigible."

Ques. What is the pronunciation and meaning of the word "dirigible" as applied to a balloon?—Ans. Pronounced dir-ij-ih-l, accent on first syllable. Means steered, that is, capable of being steered.

Washington, D. C.

Ques. Please give the population, area and location of the city of Washington.—Ans. Population estimated between 350,000 and 400,000. Territory now belonging to city comprises about 70 square miles. Located in District of Columbia, on east bank of Potomac river, about 100 miles from that river's entrance into Chesapeake bay.

Pershing's Politics.

Ques. What is Gen. Pershing's politics?—Ans. He is an army man, not a politician. Is said to be a Republican.

The Congressional Record.

Ques. Is the Congressional Record for distribution to the public and if so how can I get it?—Ans. Yes. Write to your senator or representative in congress. If any records allotted to him are not subscribed for he will have your name put on free list. You can subscribe for record if you wish. Address Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. Price is $1.50 per month or $8 per year for long session.

For a Sprained Ankle.

As soon as possible after the injury is received get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and follow the plain printed directions which accompany the bottle.

AT LAST.

Washington, May—It was learned here to-day that ex-Senator James Hamilton Lewis, Illinois, Democratic whip in the Sixty-fifth Congress, who has been making a tour of the West as representative of the Administration to sound out sentiment of the people on the League of Nations, has notified Democratic National Committeemen and officials here in Washington that one prevailing sentiment is for ousting Postmaster General Burleson.

Because Lewis has learned first hand of this feeling; because he has been persona grata with the White House, and because he was selected as the Administration agent to circulate through the West, members of the Democratic National Committee feel that he is an ideal man to advise the President upon his return that party interests, as well as efficiency of Government service, demand official decapitation of Mr. Burleson.

GREEDY LANDLORDS MAY LOSE CAPITAL.

Washington May 24.—Senator Sherman, of Illinois, believes that war profiteering has made Washington a place unfit to be the capital of the nation. He wants to move it west, possible to St. Louis, nearer the center of the nation's life and industry.

A resolution to move the capital will be introduced by the senator, he announced today, if the landlords in this city attempt to carry out their announced plan of boosting the rents when the Salsbury act ceases to be effective.

GIVE BACK OUR SHIPS IS PLAIN OF HAMBURG

Hamburg, May 24.—"Give us back our ships! We didn't know you were going to keep them. That's the wall of the Mamburguer Nachrichten. "The English got those ships of ours by a mean device," it says. "We thought they were only to be interned," and that in a neutral port. But the English claim that we have surrendered them for good. Let every honest German join us in the cry "Give us

AIMS AT GROUNDHOG KILLS HIS BROTHER

Lancaster, Ky., May 15.—In the adjoining county of Jessamine, George Owens, 21, was shot and instantly killed by his brother, Samuel Owens. The two young men, accompanied by Morris Motely, their brother-in-law, and Opa. Blackman, a neighbor, were hunting groundhogs, and, seeing one of the animals on a cliff, Samuel, who was on his brother, attempted to shoot, the ball striking his brother in the head.

KILL THE CURS.

The new dog law is a good one. Its strict enforcement would encourage many farmers to keep a few sheep. The Springfield Sun of Apr. 10th, published the following account of damage by dogs.

"A $500 loss in one night means nights of unrest but this is the experience of Mr. T. J. Wheatley, who lives below town on the Bardstown pike. Last week a number of fox hounds ran wild on his farm, passing through his sheep pasture where he had a very fine bunch of young ewes, many with lambs at side, which were killed outright in the flight of the mother ewes. Since the scare a number of ewes have given birth to lambs, but only one or two have lived. Aside from the heavy loss in the death of the lambs, the frightened ewes will do absolutely no good during the remainder of the season. Mr. Wheatley places his loss at $500, which is not too high. This may furnish food for thought to the sheep raisers throughout the county."

FRIDAY.....MAY 30

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce I. S. Mason a candidate for Representative of Ohio county, subject to the action of the Republican party at the primary election August 2, 1919.

We are authorized to announce George Baker, of Muhlenburg county a candidate for the nomination for State Senator in the 7th Senatorial district, composed of the counties of Muhlenburg, Butler and Ohio, subject to the action of the Republican party at the primary election, August 2, 1919.

We are authorized to announce Dr. T. G. Turner, of Muhlenburg County, as a candidate for the nomination for State Senator in the 7th Senatorial district, composed of Ohio Butler and Muhlenburg counties, subject to the action of the Republican Party at the primary election to be held August 2nd., 1919.

Major Denhardt denies the report that he is to retire from the race for the Democratic nomination for governor. The Major's denial is a work of supererogation, he was never in the race.

The city council should establish a municipal goater. A bunch of goats would be of incalculable value in cleaning the weeds from the streets. Too, they would make presentable the college campus. By all means let us have the goats.

Judge George W. Jolly, of Owensboro, has filed petition to have his name placed on the ballot to be voted for, for the Republican nomination for Attorney General, at the August primary. Looks like the Judge was buying a ticket after the show was over.

Homer Cummings, chairman of the Democratic national committee, threatens a Republican senate that unless it ratifies the League of Nations covenant Wilson will run for a third term. Cummings evidently does not know how glad the Republicans would be to see Wilson head the Democratic ticket in 1920.

Looking back on the terrific wreck, wrought by the hurricane of Hate, that has just swept the world we are moved to the reflection that Christianity needs a new dedication of its high ideal of peace on earth and good will to men. It was not the pagan, but the christian nations, that indulged the bloodiest butchery in all the annals of time.

In a speech in McCauley's theater, in Louisville, Tuesday night, William Jennings Bryan said a Republican congress would not carry out president Wilson's recommendation to lift the ban on wine and beer. The Nebraskaian said the Republicans would not follow Wilson when he moved forward, and would be much less inclined to follow him in a backward movement.

Breckenridge county voted the 20 cent road tax, Saturday. The majority for the tax was above twelve hundred. One by one our neighboring counties are taking this step of progress. Friends of good roads in this county should keep their courage up. The people are waking up. They need just a little time to yawn and stretch their limbs. They will be ready, willing and anxious to vote the tax if the Fiscal court will submit it at the August primary.

Daring and courage, when indulged for a laudable purpose, command the admiration of mankind, and the whole world rejoices in the safety of Hawker and Grieve, the daring airmen who attempted a trans-Atlantic flight in a frail aeroplane, and were for a time believed to be lost at sea. After making 1100 miles of the journey the small plane dipped into the ocean, but fortunately a ship was at hand to rescue them. The ship carried no wireless and for several days the brave airmen were believed to be lost.

The Madisonville Hustler frankly admits there are many things bad about the present state administration, but says it all comes about because the Democrats made mistakes in electing unfit men four years ago, and that it will do better this time. But did not the Democratic candidates four years ago admit that many things were bad and promise to correct them? It is apparent that the Democratic party cannot be depended on to do the house cleaning at Frankfort. Let a new broom sweep it clean.

"A crucial hour has arrived. A spirit is abroad in the land, the spirit of anarchy, of law violation and law repeal. National prohibition is being threatened. Ministers and congregations of 200,000 churches are called upon to help hold the line and hold it fast until National Prohibition goes into effect July 1, 1919." Such is the clarion call coming to us from the National Prohibition Committee, with request to publish. It is the prohibitionists' answer to the President's message to congress to remove the ban on the manufacture of wines and beers. Fortunately for our prohibition friends a Republican congress stands as a wall of brass against the President's motion for a backward step in moral legislation for the country.

Visiting Oakwood cemetery, Sunday afternoon, the unmarked grave of Prof. Wayland Alexander, was pointed out to us. It was a melancholy reflection that the most earnest, most industrious and most successful educator who ever gave his labors toward educating the young men and women of Ohio county should lie here neglected and forgotten. We have heard many of his pupils extol his merit, compliment his enthusiasm and give him credit for all the success they had made in life, and to these we appeal that it is not yet too late for them to show their gratitude to, and respect for, the great educator by raising from contributions from their fellow pupils of their old preceptor, a fund to erect a marker at his grave. If the matter may interest them we shall be glad to act as a medium of exchange for them.

Again it is Decoration Day, a day many years ago set apart for the purpose of honoring the heroic dead who followed the flag when the number of its stars was the price of blood and sacrifice. Again a patriotic public will meet to lay, with loving hands, flowers upon the graves of the soldier dead. But to this solemn exercise but few of the thinning ranks of a once mighty army will come, and these will come with feeble and unstable step. Time's lengthening arm has plucked them one by one, until a scanty remnant of a once vast concourse now remains to honor those who marched and fell. A newer and vaster army has just returned from a foreign conflict, but no event can dim the martial glory of the heroes of our Civil war. Again grateful countrymen will gather at the marked tombs to do them honor, and 'tis well.

Not the League of Nations but the awakened dignity of the individual man will prevent future wars, declared an intelligent soldier just returned from France. He says his acquaintance with the temper of soldiers of the different countries inspires his belief that it will be impossible during the life of this generation, to again assemble the great armies that are now disbanding for the pursuits of peace. He says that ignorance and fear, which have hitherto made possible great armies for aggressive wars, will now be no longer an asset for the war lords. Education and culture, rather than international agreements will, according to this observer, make future wars on a large scale impossible, by demanding of diplomats a peaceful settlement of international differences. We are venturing no opinion; we are only recording that of an intelligent observer, who saw eighteen months of the hell of war.

The League of Nations seems to be following the course of the free silver issue in 1896. Early in that campaign it looked like the country was going to adopt it by an overwhelming majority. The idea of having more money was seductive. But the issue could not stand a campaign of education, and was repudiated by a tremendous majority. The theory of a League of Nations sounded good. Nobody wants another war, and an agreement by the nations to keep the peace was looked upon with favor. But it will not stand the light of logic. It would be at best but an agreement and there is no way to prevent people or nations violating agreements. Were there not treaties between the nations before the great war began, and were they not treated as scraps of paper? A league of Nations to be effective must be founded upon force, and the possibility of the members of the league dividing on the employment of force would plant the seeds of another world war on even a larger scale than the one just closed. There is no cureall for the evils of war, as there is none for any of the other evils that afflict mankind.

NOTICE TO FARMERS.

BOILED DOWN.

A boom has been started for Attorney General Palmer, for the Democratic nomination for President.

The aeroplane that dropped aviator, Harry Hawker in the sea, has been discovered, still afloat.

Jake Greenberg and his associates, who have just sold the Galt House to the Belknap Hardware Company, will build a modern 500 room hotel at Chestnut and Fourth or at Fourth and Broadway, Louisville.

On account of the high cost of labor and material, building operations have not kept pace with the increase of population in recent years, and a shortage of residence property is reported in most of the large cities of the country.

The Allies will submit their peace terms to Austria today. The terms have not yet been made public.

As long as history is read Albert C. Reed will be known as the first man to cross the Atlantic ocean in an aeroplane.

King Albert, of Belgium, is expected to visit Washington in October.

Hancock county will begin at once the construction of a loose leaf tobacco warehouse.

AN EVENING WEDDING.

J. E. Morris, of Beaver Dam, and Annie Render, of Morgantown, (colored) were married by Judge Cook at 8 o'clock Saturday evening. J. E. is 23 and Annie 21, but each has a former matrimonial experience, and has been divorced.

Mrs. E. W. Cooper, of Nashville, Tenn., underwent a successful operation for appendicitis, Wednesday afternoon, and was doing splendidly when last heard from.

Mr. W. H. Coombs, who was formerly editor of the Herald here, but more recently employed on the Mayfield Messenger, has gone to Paducah, where he has accepted the position of foreman on the News-Democrat.

Mr. Wade Balze left Wednesday for Winchester, Ky., where he goes in the interest of a project of oil development, near Balzetown. He will meet some parties at Winchester whom he expects to interest in his leases in this county.

Commonwealths Attorney C. E. Smith will go to Hawesville Monday, where he will be engaged in circuit court. The docket for this term of the Hancock court is larger than usual, and will perhaps consume the entire week.

The county board of education has arranged to furnish each of the teachers of the rural schools two first class school journals, with a view to increasing the efficiency of the schools. The Journals are the property of the county, and in the event of a change of teachers during the school term the journals would go to the succeeding teacher.

We have received a number of complaints recently from our subscribers that they are not receiving their Republican regularly. We do not know how to account for such failures, as we mail out our complete list every Thursday night. However, when such miscarriages occur we shall appreciate a report of the fact and will try to locate the cause of the difficulty.

THAT MOTHER-IN-LAW

Wife 82 Sues "Hubby" 70—Gave Affections To Wrong Party.

Wenatchee, Wash., May. 17.—No wife can ever be sure she has severed her husband from his mother's apron strings.

The mother-in-law problem—as old as Eve's disapproval of Cain's wild bride—may bob up for the matron of 80 as well as for the wife of 20.

The case of Mrs. Ellen S. Cooley proves it—a case perhaps secretly consoling to mothers, but certainly disquieting to wives.

Mrs. Cooley, 82, is suing her husband, Ferdinand Cooley, 70 for divorce, on the ground that his mother, 94, has alienated his affections.

For the better part of 15 years the aggravated wife says, she and Cooley were as happy as honeymooners a third of their age. She was a wealthy spinster of 67 when he, a beau of 55, courted and won her in Muskegon, Michigan. Persuading her to come to Washington, Cooley invested some of his wife's money in an apple orchard, she says.

Then mother-in-law arrived at the home—and the chestnut stage joke began to develop real burrs for the wife.

Cooley, she says, was the dutiful son rather than the devoted husband.
He bought a two-passenger roadster
There was room for only one of the women. He chose his mother, taking her daily to town and to church on Sundays, while Mrs. Cooley walked or stayed at home.

The venerable mother was given the best room in the house, the wife being relegated to the garret.

"He even sold the family cow to deprive me of the milk diet prescribed by our doctor," she complains.
"And he repeatedly told me he was sadly disappointed in our marriage, finally notifying me to leave the house and never return.

"When I asserted the home was mine, he informed me he had recorded the deed in his name.

"Then he confessed another woman had supplanted me in his affections—meaning his mother. That being so, only divorce was left for me.

"I believe no wife ever entirely weans her husband away from his mother."

Ninety-four and 82 competing for the love of 70!

The law and the mother-in-law!
It's a weighty decision to put up to any judge, especially a mere infant of say 40 or 50 years.

Barbara Lunsford, et al., Defendants.
By virtue of a judgment and order
of sale of the Ohio Circuit Court entered at its May term, 1919, in the above styled action, directing me to sell the hereinafter described property, for the purpose of paying the indebtedness against the estate of J. C.
Lunsford, deceased, and dividing the balance of the proceeds, if any, among the widow and children of the said J. C. Lunsford, I will offer for sale at public outcry to the highest and best bidder at the Court House door in Hartford, Ky., on Monday, June 2, 1919, (it being regular county court day) at one o'clock P. M., upon a credit of six and twelve months, the following described property, to-wit:

A tract or parcel of land lying and being in Ohio County, Kentucky, on the waters of Caney Creek, and bounded as follows:

Beginning at a stone in the North boundary line of J. T. Ford's land; thence running N. 66 E. 51½ poles to a stone; thence N. 42 E. 60 poles to a stone; thence S. 72 E. 51½ poles to a stone; thence N. 31 poles to a sassafras and dogwood; thence N. 67 W. 38 poles to two red oaks and chestnut on a branch; thence up said branch 96 poles to a hickory at the junction of another branch;
thence up the left hand branch S. 27
W. 38 poles to a stone on said branch;
thence with said branch S. 4 E. 42 poles to the beginning, containing 44 acres, more or less.

The purchaser will be required to execute bonds immediately after sale
to be approved by the commissioner payable in two equal installments, bearing interest at 6 per cent, to have the force and effect of a judgment, and a lien will be retained as additional security on the land herein sold.

Given under my hand as commissioner aforesaid, this the 9th day of May, 1919.

OTTO C. MARTIN,
Commissioner.
Wedding and Glenn, Attys.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

Ohio Circuit Court,

Vs.—Notice of Sale.

Una J. Taylor, et al., Defendants.
By virtue of a judgment and order of the Ohio Circuit Court entered at its May term, 1919, in the above styled action directing me to sell the within described property for the purpose of dividing the proceeds among the parties entitled thereto and paying the costs of this action and cost of this sale, I will offer for sale at public outcry to the highest and best bidder at the Court House door in Hartford, Kentucky, on Monday, June 2nd, 1919 at about the hour of one o'clock P. M., (it being regular county court day) upon a credit of six and twelve months the following described real estate, situated in Ohio county, Ky., and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in Levi Taylor's line 112½ poles to a stake in said Levi Taylor's North East corner; thence west 112½ poles to a stake in said Levi Taylor's line; thence North 283 poles to a stake in John Brown's line; thence East 112½ poles to a stake at Geo. W. Leach's North West corner; thence South 283 poles to the beginning, containing 200 acres, more or less.

The purchaser will be required to
execute bonds immediately after sale
in equal installments due in six and twelve months, bearing 6 per cent interest, said bonds to have the force and effect of a judgment, and to be approved by the Commissioner, and a lien will be retained as additional security on the land herein sold.

Given under my hand this the 9th day of May, 1919.

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now
She is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royce City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl...my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me...but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable...I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot...
I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it...
I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me...for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better.

The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

Proof That Cooperation Pays.

When the farmers of Madison County, Fla., sold a carload of sweet potatoes co-operatively and by so doing saved $113.50 they began to realize the benefits of selling their produce in this way. The county agent has been showing them how to get orders for a number of other cars of potatoes and the cooperative plan is growing in every part of the county. The agent hopes before long to have a good cooperative organization among the farmers for buying and selling all farm produce and equipment co-operatively.

What Big Holdings Mean.

When the United States Department of Agriculture, through the Bureau of Markets, reports that the cold-storage holdings of all kinds of meat and meat products, including lard, amount to hundreds of millions of pounds, perhaps considerably over a billion pounds, the opinion is formed that there is much hoarding. Stock in cold storage was large at the time of the report for January 1, 1919, and their total was 1,296,000,000 pounds of meat and meat products. At the average rate of consumption for the United States in 1918 this quantity of meat food, enormous though it may seem, was after all sufficient to last the United States for only 23 days, if no other meats were eaten.

Wool Consumption Increases Following Decline Since Fall.

Wool consumption, which declined sharply since November, took a jump in March over the figures for February. During March manufacturers used about 34,000,000 pounds of wool grease equivalent, an increase of 6,500,000 pounds compared to February of this year, but less than half of the wool used during March, 1918.

In March, 1919, manufacturers used 23,170,584 pounds of grease wool, and 1,633,722 pounds of pulled wool, according to the Bureau of Markets, Department of Agriculture. Leading states, in the order of their consumption were: Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Ohio and Maine.

A new feature of the monthly consumption reports issued by the Bureau of Markets is the inclusion of figures on imports furnished by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Imports during March, 1919, in pounds were: Class I—unwashed 13,825,936; Class II—washed and unwashed 363,549; Class III—washed and unwashed 5,758,713, scoured 114,700.

Detailed monthly reports on wool consumption can be secured from the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

How To Fight Cucumber Beetle

Protect the young plants in small gardens with cloth coverings. Make them tight enough to keep out the beetles.

Plant an excess of seed to scatter the attack.

Plant beans, gourds, early or late varieties of squash and pumpkin with the cucumbers for trap plants.

Practice clean cultivation. Spray with an arsenical, alone or a combination with Bordeaux mixture. Cover every part of the plant with the spray.

Keep the plants free from other insects and from disease.

Stimulate the growth of plants by manures or other fertilizers.

Water the plants in drought and in hot weather.

Co-operate with neighboring growers of cucumbers.

Commerce has served to distribute the tobacco beetle widely, and it probably now occurs in all countries having a temperate, subtropical, or climate.

Timely Poultry Notes.

Do not overlook the fact that the chicks must have shade. If there is no natural shade for them to stay under during the heated part of the day be sure and provide sufficient for their needs.

One of the most important factors in keeping young chicks growing is good, clean, fresh water in vessels. As the days get warmer care should be taken to change the water as often as required to keep it clean and fresh.

Provide a box partly filled with road dust or wood ashes so as to give the hens an opportunity to take a dust bath. It keeps them free from lice.

Market white-shelled and brown-shelled eggs in separate packages. Uniform products command the best prices. Never market small or dirty eggs.

Do not forget to look over the young chicks from time to time for lice and mites. Hat weather is the paradise for lice and mites. So be careful, be sure, don't be sorry. Look out for lice.

Pure-bred poultry means uniformity of products. Uniformity of products means increased profits if they are properly marketed. Given the same care and feed, pure-bred fowls will make a better profit than mongrels.

Garden Grows Tops and Not Roots

From North Carolina: "Why will my garden fail to make underground crops? Things that grow above the surface are alright."

Like many others, you have been using only stable manure, I suppose. Give the garden a heavy application of acid phosphate, and note the result.

Fertilizer For Corn.

"After a crop of crimson clover has been turned under for corn, what fertilizer should I use on the corn? I want to sow crimson clover again in the corn. Will lime or slag help in getting a better stand of clover? Ans. "Where plenty of acid phosphate has been used in the growing of the small grain crop we would not here use anything for corn but the clover unless we applied lime before planting the corn. If the soil has not had plenty of phosphoric acid it would answer all purposes to apply 400 pounds an acre of basic slag on account of the lime with it, but it would be still better to lime the land well by harrowing in a ton of ground lime-stone.—Progressive Farmer.

Pastures For Pigs Again.

Pig Club Agent, W. C. Parsons, of South Carolina, makes the following specific suggestions on pastures for pigs as a sequel to his recent letter of instruction to club members on this subject. He suggests that where there are no lots under fence, some of these crops can be planted in open field, cultivated, and cut as green feed for pigs.

Rape:—Annual crop for winter and spring grazing; plant in late summer or early spring, drill or broadcast.

Cowpeas:—Annual crop for early fall pasture; plant April to July, drill or broadcast.

Soy Beans:—Annual crop for early fall pasture; plant May to July, drill.

Oats and Rye:—Annual winter crops for pasture; plant September to November, broadcast.

Vetch:—Annual crop for winter and early spring grazing; plant September to November, broadcast with oats or rye.

Sorghum:—Annual crop for late summer pasture; plant May to July, drill or broadcast.

Peanuts:—Annual crop for late fall pasture; plant May to July, drill.

Corn and Velvet Beans:—Annual crops for fall and winter pasture; plant May to June, drill.

Bur and Crimson Clover:—Annual winter crops for pasture; plant September to November, broadcast.

Remember that vetch and the clovers should be inoculated.

Destroying Tent Caterpillars.

The above-named pests are very numerous in our orchards this spring, and in working to rid the peach orchard of them, we have found a method which we think is more effective and less dangerous than the torch.

In burning out the nests we have found unless one holds the torch in contact so long that the bark and young fruit are liable to serious damage the nest is not entirely destroyed, and there will be enough live worms left to re-establish the colony.

We take an open can, half full of kerosene, and a short stick, splintered on the end, wind up the nest on the stick, holding the can under the nest in the meantime so any stray worms will fall into the can. Submerge the nest and worms rolled up on the stick in the oil, which kills them at once. Then take the oiled nest and swab the tree or limbs where the nest was, which will kill any worms that may have escaped.

SALVATION ARMY TO USE SALOONS

New York, May 24.—The ancient, if not honorable, institution—the corner saloon, with its mahogany bar and brass rail—will not be relegated to desuetude on July 1, but will be taken over by the Salvation Army and run as an innocuous club for bachelors. This announcement is made by Commander Evangeline Booth. The movement to bring as many of the barrooms as possible under the flag of the Salvation Army, it is announced, will extend from ocean to ocean and from Canada to Mexico.

There will be a white-jacketed bar-keep, as now, and the counter across from the mahogany will become a "free lunch" counter. Only soft drinks will be dispensed. The official motto under which the

"alcoholless" bar will be run is:

"Married men to their homes and families on time—bachelors welcome to stick indefinitely."

Commander Booth in an interview said:

"The saloon, as it exists today, is not wholly bad. I say this deliberately, although I believe strong drink is a mocker, and that the excessive use of alcohol destroys both body and soul. Probably half the men who go to saloons are led by a craving for companionship.

"The Salvation Army has, within the last few weeks, demonstrated the psychology of the brass rail. There is something about the shining bar which brings all men to a common footing. The easy and relaxed attitude of those who lean against the mahogany or cherry suggests comfort. Because wine and beer are to go, shall not a man take his ease in his own inn?

"Therefore, at our newly opened hotel in West Forty-seventh street we have kept the bar and brass rail and the bartender back of them. Although soft drinks are served instead of hard ones, this barroom of the new era glows with good cheer. There are many bartenders of genial personality and good character who could just as well remain behind the soft drink bar as not."

About Rheumatism.

Rheumatism causes more pain and suffering than any other disease, for the reason that it is the most common of all ills, and it is certainly gratifying to sufferers to know that there is a remedy that will afford relief, and make rest and sleep possible. It is called Chamberlain's Liniment.

THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Godden Tells How It May be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. GODDEN, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Such annoying symptoms as heat flashes, nervousness, backache, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome and the system restored to normal conditions by this famous root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complications present themselves write the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions how to overcome them. The result of forty years experience is at your service and your letter held in strict confidence.

LETTER FROM FRANCE.

Ehrenbreitstein, Germany.
May, 4, 1919.

Dear Editor,
Your paper has been mailed to me regularly and while reading several letters from the boys attached to various divisions I thought you might be interested in our outfit, the 1st, Pioneer Inf., which was formerly the old New York National Guard. Although we were not a division we have been the backbone of some of the best known divisions, such as the Rainbow, 28, 26, 27 and 42.

Our regiment was made up in the States by men from all different States. There are something like 1,500 Kentucky boys in it. Our regiment was first intended for non-combatant unit, but after witnessing the sterling qualities of the officers and men the Commanding officer asked if we could not be made combatant troops, and his request was granted.

We left the states July 9, 1918, for France, and arrived at Brest, on the 18th of July, 1918. When we landed we sure met with an awful sight, as Brest at that time was a city of mud. After hiking a few miles to a place to camp we pitched pup tents in the midst of a sea of mud. We stayed there about a week and it rained every day. We left Brest in a very cramped manner. We arrived in a town called LaFertes. We had our supper there and then started for the front. Already the roar from the guns could be heard and the reflections from the fire seen. We made 11 miles that night, finally arriving at a town called Sacey. The Chateau Thierry drive was going on and the boys were also driving the Huns at Soissons. On August 5, we arrived at the lines in the vicinity of Fore-en-Tardenois, and what a greeting we received that night. There were shells, bombs and all kinds of gas. It was that night we received our first gas alarm and to most of us it sounded like a call from the devil himself. We remained on the front until we hit Flines, and it was at this famous front that our regiment made their name as a combat unit. After seeing the battle of Flines through we were ordered to the Verdun front and arrived there September 24. It was pretty quiet, but on September 25, at 11:30 p. m., we opened up. What a night, it seemed like the whole world was on fire. We put every thing we had in this drive and it sure was some slaughter. The Huns began to give away and they soon proved they were good runners, as we had all we could do to keep with them. We kept them going until the armistice was signed. We were in the Marvaux when the armistice was signed and it was at this time that Colonel Boyer, Commander of the 1st Pioneer, received word that on account of the wonderful showing he and his men made during their time in France, they were to be included in the army of Occupation. On November 13, we started for the Rhine, hiking something like 225 miles and crossing the Rhine on December 14. We took possession of Fort Ehrenbreitstein one of the Germans strongest forts. The Stars and Stripes are flying over it now.

Now that the war is over we are waiting patiently for our relief to come so we can go to the U. S. A. once more, and let us hope forever.

Your friend,
BARNEY BAUGH.

NAME YOUR FARM.

Sometime ago we suggested the appropriateness and good taste of our farmers giving attractive names to their farms. A well selected name adds dignity to the owner and individuality to the farm. It is a practice in many enterprising farming communities and we should be glad to see it adopted by our own farmers. Such a movement has been recently started in Larue county and the Larue County Herald publishes a list of more than sixty farms so named. Among the names we note these pleasing ones: "Five Oaks," "Meadow Brook," "Cottage Hill," "Lone Oak," "Mint Springs," "Maple Spring," "Elm Grove," etc. We should take pleasure in making public mention of names assigned to their farms by our home people, and should like to see the list a long one. All that is necessary in naming a farm is to post a board with the name selected, on a post at or near the gate leading to the public highway. Then the owner should have envelopes and letter-heads printed, and give his farming industry the dignity of a business.

EASTVIEW.

BEADS ODDLY STRUNG

(By I. D. Claire.)

Tins is always lookin' ahead. I remarked to him yesterday that there had been mighty little sunshine in May and he mumbled back, "Yes, and there'll be mighty little 'moonshine' in July."

Government control has proved a failure so far. Look what it has done for the railroads and the liquor business.

With all his faults, and goodness knows he's got 'em all, I like him. I'm speaking about Tinsley, and I hate to see this wet weather gittin' him so far behind with his fishin'.

The war has ruined the industry of American millionaire heiresses dealin' in foreign titles.

Bryan says the Democratic nominee for president must be a man whose stand on prohibition has always been rite, and Bryan is willin' to vouch for his own long record on the dry question.

The President thinks a little beer, as well as a little wine, should be taken for the stomach's sake.

The small farm boy can't see any serious calamity in all this too-wet-to-work weather.

The old maids order form a union and petition the legislature to levy a bachelor tax that would be prohibitive.

Battle Nall says he can't see any reason why just because the country is goin' liquor dry it should git so larned water wet.

Success in life consists mostly in the few gittin' out of it what the many put into it.

I'm glad when this war business is over so Villa, Bryan, Billie Sunday and the scandal suits can git back on the first page.

A Mason's lodge out west let some women come in durin' intermission of the work and a great howl goes up in Masonry. Howlin' is right. Just think what it might mean if the women was given the privilege to come aroun' lodge night and see if Hubby was raly there.

MIDWAY.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized

ed Sunday evening, May, 18, 1919, at 6 o'clock, when Mr. Roy Roeder, of Central Grove and Miss Beulah Dean Ross, of this place were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ross, Rev. M. G. Snell performing the ceremony. They have many friends, who wish them a long, happy and prosperous journey, while going down life's pathway together.

Mrs. Arthur Faught was called to the bedside of her mother, who is quite ill, at her home, in Central City. Mrs. P. M. Brown, who has been confined to her room for about three months, from effects of the "flu" is, we are glad to report, convalescent.

Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Park, of Owensboro, visited the family of Mr. D. M. Park, last week.

Earl Bishop and Miss Erta Bishop visited the family of Mr. J. L. Heflin, of Lone Star neighborhood, from Friday until Sunday.

Mrs. Ella Hoskins has returned from a few days visit to relatives near Rockport and Ceralvo.

Mrs. Lula Rhoads and daughter, Miss Audrey, of Beaver Dam, were guests of the family of Mr. P. M. Brown, last week.

Noah L. Rowe has returned from overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Brown visited their daughter, Mrs. Render, of MeHenry, recently.

Inexpensive Blouses That Possess Real Charm and Character

When you once become familiar with the character and the many splendid qualities of the extremely moderately priced Blouses to be found here at all times, then your entire conception of what an inexpensive Blouse might be will have been changed. Many folks who are unacquainted with our unusual Blouse offerings are of the opinion that a low price for a Blouse is not consistent with good style and real merit; this opinion will undergo a pleasing revision when one but learns of just how good a Blouse a small sum will purchase here. For example take these:

Wirthmor Waists at $1.50

They're decidedly good-looking and they're just as good as they are good-looking. They are made of quality fabrics; they are finished throughout with the utmost care; and they are cut absolutely true to size and warranted to be perfect fitting. They really have so very much to commend them that we urge their acquaintanceship, for we know that a one-time wearer of a Wirthmor most always becomes a staunch friend and loyal admirer.

Winsome New Styles Now on Sale

Get Thorough Cultivation Without Hard Work

When you use a cultivator first of all. But you want to get this result in the shortest possible time and with the least possible labor.

We want you to see why using the John Deere KC Cultivator does away with the necessity for hard work, and at the same time gets the most thorough results.

Here are just a few of its features that will appeal to you.

Using it, you can meet every field condition without stopping to make adjustments. No wrench is necessary. Cultivation at even depth and distance of cultivation from the row are accurately regulated by means of handy levers.

Because of its parallel shift rigs, its shovels always face squarely to their work. They never track or trail in dodging on crooked rows. No uncultivated spots are left. You get thorough cultivation over all of the field.

The rigs shift quickly in response to slight pressure on the foot levers. Guiding the rigs is as natural as walking.

We want you to get into the seat of this cultivator and see for yourself how handy and reliable it is. We've never seen its equal for time-saving, labor-saving, weed-destroying work in the field.

Don't fail to come in early and get acquainted with the "K C."
